Eni Cavo

Hello, my name is Eni Cavo and I am entering senior year. I was born and raised in Boston and moved to Dedham freshman year of high school. I am bilingual, so I also speak fluent Albanian. Volleyball and soccer have a very special place in my heart, but I play varsity volleyball at DHS. I have been working at one job for four years now, and another job for one year. I never enjoyed math during my middle school years and into freshman year, but thanks to my teacher, Ms. Basque, I gradually grew an appreciation for the subject, and now it is one of my strong suits. Living in the more woodsy side of Dedham, I have ten happy chickens, so it basically feels like I am living on a farm. My family loves to travel, we have been to over ten countries and I hope to continue the adventures. I am excited to conquer yet another year of Dedham High School and graduate!
